Andes Coil Processors Hires New General Manager

LEWISVILLE, Texas (August 27, 2013) – Andes Coil Processors LLC announced the hire of Shaun Pressly as general manager of the Lewisville facility.

A 10-year-veteran of Worthington Industries, Pressly served as one of the leads in the company's Centers of Excellence initiative.

“Worthington is a well-respected and high performing organization that is known for developing strong leaders,” said President Howard Pena. “Shaun’s ability to drive sustainable change in a large organization will be a great asset as we continue our expansion effort into new products and markets.”

About Andes Coil Processors

Andes Coil Processors is a steel toll processing business that provides rail, warehousing, slitting, cut-to-length and trucking solutions to its customers. With two locations, Andes operates in the north Texas and Northern Indiana manufacturing hubs. The company has served the Texas region for more than 35 years.

A family-oriented company, Andes is active in its community, donating time and money to such charities as the Fort Worth Stock Show Syndicate and Jim Bob Norman Scholarship Fund. These entities have raised over $38 million and $770,000 in scholarship money for Texas 4H and FFA youths since 1980.
